Red Envoy Hands Ike Peace Ideas

Zarubin Delivers 'Friendly Letter' From Bulganin

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower today received from Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin what the White House described as a "friendly letter" putting forth "certain ideas . . . in the interest of promoting world peace."

The letter was delivered personally to the President by Russian Ambassador George F. Zarubin in a 15-minute audience at the White House.

Shortly afterward, White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty issued this statement:

"Intermittently since the Geneva conference, the President and Premier Bulganin have been exchanging correspondence."

"THE SOVIET ambassador this morning brought in a friendly letter containing certain ideas which the Premier asked the President to study further in the interests of promoting world peace."

Zarubin himself refused to tell reporters what the letter said. Just before receiving the message, Mr. Eisenhower declared at a news conference that the United States and its allies must remain strong in the absence of desired progress on world disarmament. He emphasized that disarmament moves are going to be slow and tortuous.

HAGERTY NOTED that the President and Bulganin had exchanged correspondence intermittently since the Geneva summit meeting.

Under questioning, however, Hagerty said that this intermittent exchange consisted only of "get well" messages sent from Moscow to the President in Denver after he suffered his September heart attack, plus the Sept. 19 Bulganin letter cold-shouldering Mr. Eisenhower's "open sky" proposal and the President's Oct. 11 reply.

Realtors Launch Multiple Listing Service Here

Multiple Listing Service for Palm Springs is now a reality.

At a meeting of Realtor-members, associates and office personnel last night for a briefing on the detailed operation of this newly-organized service at the World War Memorial Building, it was decided to start the service today.

There are 32 Realtor offices with 104 selling brokers covered by this Multiple Listing Service. Listings may cover, in addition to Palm Springs, those in the communities of Rancho Mirage, Thousand Palms, Desert Hot Springs, White-water and territory in between.

MIKE JEKYLL, chairman of the Multiple Listing Committee, who presiding at the meeting, in making the announcement, said:

"Multiple Listing Service has as its purpose to stimulate and facilitate the transaction of more real estate business, as it is a modern method of exchanging listings between Realtor offices. This should make all real estate a more liquid commodity and expedite sales so that the public will be even more attracted to real estate in this area as a sound investment."

Members of the Multiple Listing Committee besides Jeekyll are Terry Ray, president of the Palm Springs Real Estate Board; Theresa Press, George Gannon and Burnham Biegler. Stanton Griffith & Associates are handling the mechanics of the Multiple Listing Service.

Three Marines Sentenced Here

Three Marines, station at Twentynine Palms, were each sentenced to 10 days in county jail, or a fine of $50 to be paid by next week, and temporarily released to their commandant after they were found guilty in Palm Springs Municipal District Court, one on a petty theft charge, the others on charges of tampering with an auto.

One was arrested at the Twentynine Palms base and returned to face the charge after he was identified as the suspect who had stolen hubcaps earlier this month. The other two were arrested here Tuesday after they were seen getting out of their car; attempting to get into an auto parked in the 600 block of North Indian Avenue. They were frightened away by a witness, who identified their auto and later, the youths.

Last night, theft of a new electric coffeemaker and toaster from a car parked in the 200 block of North Palm Canyon Drive was reported by the car's owner, Arthur Lickers, 701 West Baristo Road.

Southern California Gets Heavy Rainfall

LOS ANGELES — Moderate to heavy rain today brought relief to Southern California farmers threatened with heavy crop losses because of parched lands.

Equalization of Allotments Advocated

Trusteeship for Indian Holdings Also Supported

Equalization of past allotments, placing of valuable tribal lands in trusteeship, and establishment of a definite policy for future allotments of land are three of the main points in the report by the special Citizens' Committee to the Secretary of the Interior, concerning Agua Caliente Band of Mission Indians.

The committee was appointed by the Secretary in 1954 to study the local Indian situation and submit recommendations. Members are nationally known businessmen who are winter residents or visitors of Palm Springs and acquainted with the local situation.

THE TRIBAL COUNCIL was scheduled to study the report today and is expected to call a Tribal meeting for complete discussion of the nine recommendations, and to develop support or opposition to the various proposals.

Besides the items mentioned above, the Citizens' Committee recommended that water and mineral rights continue as tribal property; that allottees should be able to receive their land piecemeal instead of in one parcel, as now required, but that all allottees should take them out of trust within 10 years provided they are at least 25 years of age at such time; tribal land which is suitable for development should be laid out according to the development plan, and surveyed and appraised.

TO AID IN equalization of allotments, the committee proposed that the tribal lands be represented by certificates of participation, or be put in a corporation which would have a non-profit status for tax purposes. The stock, either way, should be in a voting trust for the Indians, and should be allotted in such a way as to equalize past allotments.

In regard to the corporation, it was proposed that the voting trust should end after 10 years, and the tax exemption would cease after 15, and the Indians would then come into full administration of their corporation or property.

In its final recommendation, the committee said that "any corporation . . ."

Kefauver Plans 4 Days in State

LOS ANGELES — Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) will address groups in Los Angeles and Orange County Feb. 7.

"Tom C. Carrell, state chairman of the Kefauver for President Committee, said the presidential aspirant will spend four days in California."

Hotel Association Hears Plea for Paid Manager

Members of the Hotel and Apartment association met at the Ranch Club, reviewed last year's progress, and took steps to discuss the hiring of a manager for the organization. About 50 hotel and apartment operators attended.

Adela Colgan, president, recommended the dues of the organization be increased to someday finance a $10,000 promotional program and to hire a business manager. Three or four hotels now pay $20 per year, about 25 pay $15, and the others pay between $5 and $10, it was said.

No definite amount of increase was suggested.

SPEAKERS included City Manager R. W. Peterson, who told the group of the coming Municipal Bond election scheduled Feb. 14.

Eddie Davidson, past president, asked that every hotel owner stand in favor of the proposed municipal golf course, and "even more important, help get out a big vote on the bond issue."

Dewey Metzendorf discussed the buying of hotel supplies through firms recommended by the local association, and explained the savings potential and profit.

Saul Ruskin, legal counsel for the group, cautioned the hotel owners that price cutting or the raising of prices for big weekends

March of Dimes Passes $1000

March of Dimes today passed the $1000 mark, an excellent response to date for the late-starting fund-raising campaign, according to Mrs. Sidney Niles and Mrs. N. H. Curtis, co-chairmen.

All persons who received their "March of Dimes" cards, and who have not returned them, are urged to do so immediately.

The co-chairmen pointed out the importance of the campaign, saying that there are between 125 and 150 polio victims now receiving assistance in whole or part from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in Riverside county. Total cost is estimated at $60,000.

There were 39 new cases in 1955, and an average of 54 cases a year since 1948, Mrs. Niles and Mrs. Curtis said.

Democrat Wins First Congress Test of Presidency Year

PITTSBURGH — Democrat Elmer J. Holland has defeated Republican David J. Smith to represent Pennsylvania's 30th Congressional District. The seat was left vacant by the death of Democratic Rep. Vera Buchanan. The special congressional election was the first of the presidential election year.

Ike Will Get Pre-Announcement Checkup Between Feb. 10 and 15

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower announced today that he probably will undergo his next important medical examinations between February 10 and February 15. He promised not to dilly-dally too long after that on his decision on whether to seek reelection.

Under news conference questioning, the President said flatly

2 New Plans for Chest Collections

Two painless methods of collecting contributions to the Palm Springs Community Chest will be in operation here, it was learned today.

The Hotel and Apartment Association is in the process of constructing a "robot" with an outstretched hand while in the other it will carry a suitcase with a slot in it. Into the slot will go the contributions and as each hotel makes its donation, the "robot" will be passed on to the next hostelry until the roster of names on the association's list is completed.

"The object," according to Stanley Rosin, "is to keep the unwanted 'guest' moving from hotel to hotel as rapidly as possible."

And Tony and Marilyn, operators of the fountain and lunch counter in the Palm Springs Drug Store, came up with the other plan, which goes into operation Friday. According to Tony: "You drop the cost of your coffee in a container in front of you and every cent collected will be handed over to the Chest."

AEC Ends Tests to Check Safety

LAS VEGAS — The Atomic Energy Commission has ended its current phase of safety tests to determine whether fissionable materials can be detonated accidentally.

Two experiments were held in November and another last Wednesday in the series at the Atomic Proving Grounds, 75 miles north-east of here.

The AEC said there was no recordable radioactive fallout outside the test site last Wednesday.

Wave of Savage 'Wolf Gang' Attacks Launches Chicago's Biggest Roundup of Teen-Age Hoodlums

CHICAGO — A fatal stabbing capped a week of shocking "wolf gang" attacks Tuesday night and police ordered the pickup of every Chicago teen-ager with a police record.

The unprecedented roundup was touched off by the murder of William McNeff, 20, on a West Side sidewalk.

Four youths jumped McNeff and a friend at the entrance of a restaurant. While McNeff pleaded "for God's sake, don't use that blade," one of the toughs plunged a 12-inch switchblade knife into his heart.

The killing was the latest in a series of "wolf gang" attacks which have shocked Chicago in the past week.

On Sunday night, a gang of teen-agers pulled a semi-pro football player, 18-year-old Donald Stevens, from his car and beat him unmercifully with a wrench. The same gang swaggered along south west side streets that night, "jumping" anybody who came along, police said.

Last week, two 16-year-olds clubbed a teacher into unconsciousness in an elementary school corridor.

Hours after the McNeff murder

Deputy Uniformed Police Chief Robert Ryan ordered the mass pickup of teen-agers.

"Bring 'em in as fast as you can find 'em on the streets," he told his men. "I'm putting an end to this terrible situation right now."

Roundups of known criminals are routine in Chicago police annals. But this was the first time that a blanket pickup order had been issued for juvenile offenders.

Practically all the persons involved in the McNeff killing, including the victim, were graduates of the city's jails.

$71,714 Low Bid for Vista Cielo Sewer System

A $71,714 bid to lay the Vista Cielo sewer system in five north-and-south streets of the Veterans' Tract at El Cielo and Ramon Roads, by the Bakersfield firm of Jackson and Hopkins is the lowest of 15 submitted to city council for acceptance.

The council will meet at 8 p.m. in council chambers to consider the bids. The Bakersfield firm's bid, was more than $45,000 below the city's estimate.

The high bid, $124,981, was more than $55,000 greater than the low bidder's estimate.

LOCAL BIDDERS estimated the cost on El Cielo and the four parallel streets east of it, at $85,000 to $90,000.

Council tonight will also consider the county supervisorial replacement race, following the death of Homer Varner nearly three weeks ago.

Interest has been shown in Rancho Mirage realtor Ted Smith, presently head of the Coachella Valley Advisory Planning Committee. If council decides to back him, and feels that such interest be known, they would send a telegram to Governor Knight expressing the city's backing.

CONTINUED INTEREST in traffic safety within Palm Springs will be discussed tonight. See SEWERS on Page 14

NOGALES, ARIZONA
A few months ago old man West died here at Nogales. His two sons, Ted West, a newspaperman, and Bill West, a paper-hanger, each received $250 from the small estate. Bill, the paper-hanger, deposited his in the savings bank, where it still remains. Ted, the newspaperman, had always had a great yen for tequila in fancy bottles, and expended his heritage in the purchase of a grand array of the fanciest he could find. He has just finished drinking these, and has sold the strange, fantastic, empty bottles to a tourist for $360.

By BILL RASHALL

Let's get down to the basic things of living here in Palm Springs and the desert. And although that statement means nothing here are the basic things that may make it so solid with real substance—as if I am able to give with anything like that—but I'll try for all that it's worth.

Yesterday this city was hit with a big gem robbery and according to police the biggest in the history of Palm Springs. One panacea against similar occurrences is a greater number of men on our police roster. Most of the men now on the force work long hours—many hour for which they are not paid in due adherence and loyalty to the job for which they were hired but mostly because they are inspired, I believe, by good leadership.

IN ADDITION, these men are underpaid. Grossly underpaid in this community where living is on a higher scale than elsewhere in the state.

I would like to blast the h... out of all the bond issues our city council is proposing because for years I know it has turned a deaf ear to the necessity of having a police force staff with the best men obtainable in a city where wealth is far above the average in any community of its size. And when they get these men, mesmerized by an opportunity of living in Palm Springs until they wake up and find it is all work and no play, these very police officers, who have learned the town, quit for more lucrative fields. Believe me, the same is true of our fire department personnel too.

WHICH BRINGS UP my insistent question: What about those pensions—not only for the police and fire department but all members of the municipal government? Let's put City Manager R. W. Peterson on the spot and ask him some of these questions. What about our police and fire department increase in personnel? And most importantly of all, let's keep the good men we have by giving them a pension for years of service in lieu of low pay.

You have all written to me about the telephone situation, now let's do some writing and telephoning about the human element of our own government. Or let's politely inform our Mayor Florian Boyd he must do something about pensions and additional help for the Palm Springs police department which every man in the know is aware is needed. Or if not, ask me.

Well now that I have that off my chest, let's talk about something that would be more tastefully received.

HAVE YOU SEEN the Rudenko brothers performing in the Starlite room of the Chi Chi. Here are a couple of brothers, who perform marvelously in their juggling act, that will intrigue just anyone. Both of them were born in Russia. When the revolution came their father and mother banded the two boys up and escaped to Germany. After that it was the Nazis, so they left that country for Burma and for a time also lived in India. The two actors speak five languages and are today American citizens. Their father is in this country now and they are working to bring their mother, who presently resides in Bombay, here too. Both the father and the mother were high trapeze artists and the boys helped in the act during their early years. Today the boys are working, supporting their father and hoping against hope that they can bring their mother to this country.

I know about the Rudenko Brothers because my own brother, Ben, who is on the stage too, wrote and told me about them months ago. A couple of nice guys who appear for the last time tonight. Get out and see them before they leave and give them the hand their fighting hearts have earned.

AT THE HOME of George and Ethel Strebe the other night when a telegram arrived. It read as follows:

"Hope the party is a huge success. Wish we were there. Love and kisses. Your daughters."
Could anything be sweeter than to receive a message like that from two lovely girls?

Jacqueline Cochran Odium will be the guest speaker at the first of a series of meetings sponsored by the Palm Springs Republican Assembly to be held at the American Legion hall here next Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

In announcing the meeting, Arnold Rumwell, president of the Assembly said that the other Republican candidates for Congress in his district will be invited to appear as guest speakers at subsequent meetings which will be held every month. An effort will also be made to have all of the candidates appear at a final meeting before the Primary election, Rumwell said.

REPORT ON RETIREMENT — The Twentieth Century Fund report made by John J. Corson and John W. McConnell, Social Security experts who conducted a five-year study, show that nearly three-fourths of Americans over 65 have either no income of their own, or less than $1,000 a year. They state that the nation's resources are adequate for providing increased care for its aged population. But, they warn, uncontrolled inflation reduces the value of savings and cuts the purchasing power of pensions established for retired people. Unless inflation is checked, pension rates will be forced up indefinitely.

In addition to recommending revision of old-age insurance laws and assistance programs, the experts also urge families to provide resources to supplement retirement incomes. They suggest educating adults to the development of leisure-time interests and they encourage the retraining of workers in their 40s who before many years will be unable to continue the jobs they have been doing.

This large assignment must be carried out by private interests as well as by government aid. The inflation against which the report warns can be checked only by the nation working as a whole. Unless it is controlled, it will be impossible to provide adequate pensions for our aging population, now or in the future.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat)
PUBLICITY FOR 16-YEAR-OLDS — The Globe-Democrat for many years has had a policy of not using the names of juvenile delinquents or youths involved in crimes.

We have deviated from that policy today at least in the case of three 16-year-old youths arrested yesterday who, police say, have confessed to the abduction and criminal assault of a 14-year-old University City girl last Tuesday.

Acil McGee, Joseph Hastings and George S. Lawson admitted their guilt after brief questioning. If these youths are old enough to abduct and criminally assault a girl, they are old enough to get their names in the paper.

Too much maudlin sentimentality has been proclaimed over the years in protecting youth. The best antidote to crime, after effective police work and swift and speedy trial, is publicity which we are pleased to give Acil McGee, Joseph Hastings and George S. Lawson herewith. We shall be pleased to do similarly for any others who may be tempted to force 14-year-old girls into automobiles or be lured by the alleged "glamour" of abduction and criminal assault.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Recently in your column "Unedited," you have stirred up considerable comment on the subject of the telephone service in Palm Springs and vicinity.

One phase of the problem has not been touched on; namely, the utter inequity of a situation where a resident of Rancho Mirage calling a neighbor across the street in Palm Desert must pay a toll charge of 55 cents plus tax for the first three minutes of the call, plus additional charge for anything over three minutes.

Aside from the commercial aspect; that is, merchants in Palm Springs and Rancho Mirage who are deprived every day of telephone orders from residents of the Palm Desert area because of the exorbitant charge; there is the utter ridiculousness of such a situation when visitors and tourists from all over the country to our area make a call from Palm Desert to Rancho Mirage, or from Rancho Mirage to Palm Desert, and are presented with a bill for 55 cents plus tax for the call. There is no possible way to justify such a charge, in line with modern business practices.

The Palm Desert Chamber of Commerce wishes to go on record here and now, as requesting a hearing before a convened session of the Public Utilities Commission, if it should sit in Palm Springs to hear about the situation there—in order that some immediate relief action can be taken in order to rectify this most unfair and unrealistic situation here.

The telephone companies involved have promised action, but the promises are always lost in a veil of "surveys" and research. If there is anything that your good newspaper can do to bring this to the attention of the proper authorities, it will be greatly appreciated by the grateful citizens of this entire area.

Sincerely yours,
HAL KAPP,
President,
Palm Desert
Chamber of Commerce.

Dear Editor:
Coachella Valley is standing at the crossroads. A decision must be made whether we shall continue a pleasant way of life or become a place of smells and smoke and grime. It is impossible to have both because this Valley is in special circumstance. This special situation exists because we are adjacent to 5,000,000 people

LEAP YEAR!

THIS SIDE of The Sun

By Phat

(Note to the linotype gentleman: Please leave this space open for later developments and if I can think of a bit of verse before I get to the bottom of the column, will insert it. Otherwise—no poem.)

The paper in my typewriter was pristine clear, unsullied white, when I started to write today's piece for The Sun. But while glancing idly at the walls in search of inspiration, my eyes came to a halt on a new calendar Bill Rashall had hung on the wall where he could see it without craning his neck. All efforts to concoct a rhyme went over the hill although I don't see why. The calendar was a poem in itself.

AND, AS I DO NOT use the touch system, at least while typewriting, I had to discard the first few efforts because of the weird combination of letters which resulted. At the present price of newsprint, that probably cost the company two cents and eight mills. And the calendar was sent by a paper mill, for advertising "newsprint and pulp." It should have been "newsprint and pulchritude." Anyway, with the deadline for this composition nearing, I hung the calendar that Sanford Cooper of the Southern Pacific gave me, depicting the Golden State rolling along, over the other one and got back on the rails. Mentioning Cooper, as I did just above, reminds me of another appropriate 1956 auto license plate which I bet he wants: "FSP." Jimmy Shea probably went after one of those. Somebody is always asking me what the "F" means when I write FSP. It stands for "friendly."

YESTERDAY I strolled across the keyboard of this typewriter with a few well chosen words about the need of a law to discourage jay-walking. Soon after pecking that out, I happened to be in the 800 block on North Palm Canyon, seated in the car while Mrs. G did a bit of shopping. It was in the area where the new post office building has engendered a lot of additional traffic. And, as for jay-walking, in a short time I saw a) a little girl roller-skating between the cars, b) a young boy pushing a bike across the street busily whittling a lollipop down to size, c) a man walking across the street reading a letter he had just pulled out of the P. O. and, d) two women strolling in animated conversation, hands gesticulating. And none of them looked either to the right or to the left. A lip reader, watching the motorists, could have picked up a lot of new expressions.

THESE JETS, flying around over the desert, leaving vapor trails, had me baffled for a time. I thought they were sky-writers and tried to make out what they were advertising. A local doctor who specializes in heart cases, was also apparently felled. He looked up at the vapor trail and said to himself: "That fellow had better take it easy." I asked him what he meant, interrupting his musing, and he came to suddenly: "You know," he explained. "That vapor trail looks just like a cardiogram indicating a very bad heart condition."

AND Vesta Kelly, in an article I read the other night, says that the expression, "the long and short of it," can be defined best as the wife's monologue and the husband's monosyllable.

LIBRARY NOTES

On the 28th of January just 75 years ago Fyodor Mikhailovich Dostoevsky died in the year of his greatest contemporary fame. But, like many other men whose outlook is far in advance of their times, his true stature did not become apparent for several decades, following the advent of Freud and the increase of interest in psychological phenomena.

Long before the world in general even thought of, much less accepted, the study of the human mind as an integral part of the study of man, Dostoevsky's curiously realistic and encompassing absorption with abnormal traits of character threw light on these facets of human life. Even today it is startling to come upon exposures of behavior, explaining psychologically, with a clarity that belies the fact that they were written in the second half of the nineteenth century.

Now available at the Welwood Murray Memorial Library are two books that no admirer of Dostoevsky will want to miss: WINTER NOTES ON SUMMER IMPRESSIONS, Dostoevsky's notes on his travels in France and Germany; and THE THREE LOVES OF DOSTOEVSKY by Marc Slonim. WINTER NOTES ON SUMMER IMPRESSIONS is a very strange book to read with THE BROTHERS KARAMAZOV in mind. It is a bitter and querulous description of the continent and it is incredible that the creator of Alysha, with his mystical feelings for the brotherhood of man, could have himself recorded such harsh and unjust impressions of other people.

But Dostoevsky was a strange and unpredictable individual, an epileptic, tormented and complex. His moods varied not from day to day but from moment to moment and he was capable of surging from almost abysmal depravity to moments of mystic ecstasy; indeed, his religious ecstasy seems to have been most often spawned in and by the excesses of his behavior and by his deep and unwholesome desires.

Nowhere is this made more clear than in Marc Slonim's understanding and authoritative biographical study, THE THREE LOVES OF DOSTOEVSKY. Perhaps because he is a Russian himself (he was exiled from his native land by the Revolution of 1917) — Slonim understands those traits of Dostoevsky's which seem to us peculiarly of that land and time.

Dostoevsky was an incurable Slavophile, his own feelings on this subject being heightened by the atmosphere prevalent in Moscow at that time. The final public act of his life was a speech at the unveiling of the Pushkin monument in 1880, a speech in which he said: "Yes, the Russian is indubitably chosen to be all-European and universal. To be an authentic Russian, to become fully Russian . . . means merely to become brother to all men, an all-man . . ."

But even more revealing is Slonim's acute insight into the thoughts and feelings of this troubled and hypersensitive human being. Starting with his childhood in Moscow, his years of schooling, the five years political imprisonment in the penal colony at Omsk and the subsequent years at Semipalatinsk which completed his punishment as a soldier, Slonim follows the career of this victim of epilepsy, this magnificent writer who struggled continually against poverty and the vicious circle that his mania for gambling created not only in his physical, but in his spiritual, life.

Against the background of his passions are superimposed the figures of the three women who dominated his life: Maria Isaev, whom he married while still at Semipalatinsk; Apollinaria, with whom he left Russia while his wife was dying; and Anna Snitkina, the woman who, with her infinite understanding and compassion finally gave him the happy union of which he had so long dreamed.

Slonim's book will appeal not only to those interested in the Russian writers and to those interested in the psychology of abnormality; but to readers who believe in the complexity of the human being, who enjoy fully drawn characterizations unlimbied by a narrow, black and white, concept of man.

Reports on Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Laverne Andrews flew to Las Vegas to catch sister Patty's solo act. This is the first indication we've had that the Andrews Sisters may go back together again . . . Hollywood isn't exactly flipping its lid over the news that Joe Mankiewicz has bought Graham Greene's new novel, "The Quiet American." It's about a movie-maker who leaves Hollywood for England to make a picture over there and acts like the British expect an American to act: noisy, officious, vulgar. I understand Mankiewicz has Humphrey Bogart in mind for the lead. . . . Grace Kelly will do what amounts to a bit role in Joe Pasternak's all-star, Cinerama, Technicolor, stereophonic M-G-M-Musical, "International Revue" . . . Londoners were horrified by a headline: "Grace Kelly's Mother Tells All" . . . And by this one too: "My Grace in Love—By Her Dad" . . . Funny, isn't it—talk to a man about himself and he'll listen for hours.

So that you won't think she's a man, Paramount is billing her in its ads as "Miss Pat Crowley." As though they could fool us . . . Susan Hayward turned down M-G-M's remake of The Great Garbo's old tear-jerker, "The Painted Veil," claiming it's too dramatic to follow "I'll Cry Tomorrow" . . . Hollywood's shadowy figure this year is the guy who plays the role of Rosario della Rose, Anna Magnani's husband in "The Rose Tattoo." The whole plot spins around this guy and you'll see him for the first few minutes of the movie but you never really see his face because it's in the shadows and he never speaks . . . Who is this actor who shares intimate moments with the fiery Miss Magnani? Larry Chance. And he could scarcely have been named more appropriately. Any red-blooded American bachelor who's as free as Bing Crosby would give 22-year-old, brown-eyed, brunette Kathy Grant a rush too. She's a beautiful girl but she's not the Hollywood type of doll, all curves, wiggle and damp lips. Instead, for all her youth, she's poised, amusing, witty, provocative and intellectually as well as physically appealing. If this sounds like a love letter to the lovely Miss Grant—it is!

ONE OF THE BIG Las Vegas hotels is inviting its old customers to come up and bunk there for free. They're hoping that these customers will spend plenty at the gambling tables, bars, etc., to stand off a shutdown . . . Another spot in Las Vegas is dickering with the Folies Bergere to pop over from Paris and produce four complete shows in the gambling resort, each to run three months . . . Rita Moreno has taken up the bongo drums. Marlon Brando bongos too.

Richard Egan is forgetting Dana Wynter (he used to date her before Greg Bautzer cut in) with Lee Ann Merriweather. Miss America of '54 . . . Dorothy Lamour lamed off for Havana to break in her new night club act at the Club Montmartre. Detty has gotten rid of those Hawaiians, which is all to the good . . . Overheard: "She's really very dignified — you have to whistle twice before she turns around."

Tablehopping in 20th commissary. I was told by Jane Russell that she can't be in "Last Man on Wagon Mound," the Western being produced independently by Rissfield, the company owned by herself and Bob Waterfield, because Clark Gable is in it. Jane explained: "You know what we have to pay Gable, and at these prices who can afford ME?" . . . There've been several RKON-fabs over producing a new Judy Garland movie, notably a musical version of Kate Hepburn's old "Alice Adams," but it now looks as though all trading is off. Judy just won't shed that weight . . . Vito, Gassman, Shelley Winters' ex-mate, is embarking on a new career: lecturing. . . M-G-M offered Henry Fonda the role of the father in "Fifty-two Miles to Terror." Dore Schary will produce it.

TV TOPICS—Take it for what it's worth but Rita Hayworth, informants report, is about to plunge into her own TV series . . . ABC-TV is showing rival networks its means business by getting Helen Hayes, The Queen of Show Business, as hostess for its first Spectacular. It will be beamed live from New York March 19 with Firestone sponsoring . . . NBC has had many letters disapproving of the profanity in Noel Coward's recent "Blithe Spirit." Mostly the complaints were based on the show being aired at the dinner hour here on the West Coast, when the kids are still up and lookin' . . . Dolly Lee Butler was named attorney to handle a case for a group of Hollywood astrologians asking for equal time on the air to answer Paul Costes's Confidential File expose. The astrologians want to test the Federal Communications Commission ruling that demands equal time for political ideology but neglects to mention ideas.

Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz tossed a choo-choo cocktail party in their private railroad car for the press before leaving Los Angeles on their personal appearance tour . . . Covering the 1956 political conventions in Chicago and San Francisco has set an almost impossible task for the networks. The conventions are just five days apart and it takes five days just to set up the color equipment . . . Betty Furness, incidentally, will get $50,000 for just a week of feteing at the conventions.

It Happened Last Night

HOLLYWOOD — George Gobel told us about the world's champion dieter. He took off 11 pounds a day for three months. "The last time he was weighed," said George, "he only weighed 112 pounds, including the casket."

Friends seriously wonder whether pretty and popular Virginia Warren, the Chief Justice's daughter, may marry her most attentive escort, Conrad Hilton . . . Which would make her Nicky Hilton's stepmom. Virginia has a delightful sense of humor. When somebody said, "I saw a picture of you in the paper but it didn't look like you," she answered, "That's good."

Comedian Joe E. Lewis was asked by a gal at a TWA counter, "Where are you carrying your overnight bag?" Joe replied, "Young lady, I'm carrying one under each eye."

Was it Rita Hayworth's Egyptian beau, Raymond Hakim, who caused the bustup of her plans to go back to Columbia Pictures? Rita sailed for Paris — alone — after Columbia suddenly and quite mysteriously got cold to the idea of her returning to work. The studio told her she'd have to accept second billing to Kirk Douglas in "Pal Joey" — whereupon she left Hollywood and booked passage for Paris.

Thus ended the truce in their lawsuit which courts must now rule on. Hakim was constantly with Rita, and maybe the studio felt Hakim was going to be taking over her business, as well as romantic affairs, as Dick Haymes did, and that it would be swapping an old headache for a new one. Anyway, the lovely peace plan is dead.

Ava Gardner bought a $50,000 home outside Madrid and tossed many a flamenco, so much does she love Spain, but a friend just back from there tells of her declining to go out one night because, so she said, "I might miss a call from Frank."

THE HOLLYWOOD merry-go-round's confusing. Dean Martin's been back living at home, but the other night when wife Jean had dinner guests, Dean came home—looked around and walked right out again.

Jimmy Durante told me at Chasen's that he may work at the Copacabana in New York early in the summer. "What'll you do after that?" I asked him. "Nuttin'," he said . . . The Xavier Cugat band finally busted up due to Coogle deciding to stay in Rome with his wife, Abbe Lane . . . John (Skipper) Mills, father of the Mills Brothers, has retired from the act due to bad feet from all those years of bartering and singing, and has returned to Ohio. But the act's sensational at Ciro's—strange that no New York cafe ever plays them.

It's just a year ago that Charlie Morrison, owner of the Mocambo, had a stroke. His wife Mary will soon acquire a couple of partners to help until he fully recovers. In New York, Carl Ravazza signed to headline the next show. Ex-Brooklyn Schoolteacher Morty Gunty's there now. He told of a teacher who sent a kid home for pounding erasers together. "What's so serious about that?" demanded a parent. "He had another pupil's head between the erasers," said the teacher.

MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . . Jayne Mansfield makes her 20th Century-Fox screenest this week, with George ("Seven Year Itch") Axelrod directing . . . Hal March and Candy Tooton will get hitched in Las Vegas, where she's waiting a Nevada divorce . . . Johnny Meyer cancelled his bachelor party at the Eden Roc cafe, to rehearse his wedding . . . Diana Barrymore entered a mid-Manhattan sanitarium to begin her battle against alcoholism. (She decided against another place, which required a six-month stay) . . . Errol Flynn straightened out his back support problems with ex-wives Lili Damita and Nora Edgington.

EARL'S PEARLS . . . A husband looks older than his age, working hard to keep his wife looking younger than hers. —Art Moger, Boston.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Brides make strange bread, fellows." —Frances Rodman.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "I bought a two-story house," says Phil Wasserman. "The real estate man told me one story before I bought it and another story afterward."

At Dave Workman's party (at Johnny Johnston's Charcoal Room) a guest was introduced to the Yankies' Gil MacDougald. "Oh," the guy gushed. "I know all you football players!" That's earl, brother.

Washington Report

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower's already heavily-battled farm program is running into more trouble on a new score. This is a little-noticed proposal to repeal Section 304, of the Agricultural Trade Development Act, barring the sale or barter of surplus food products to Communist countries.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson considers this repeal essential for getting rid of the vast stores of farm commodities in the government's hands. He holds the Iron Curtain empire is the only place to which large quantities of these stocks can be exported without disrupting world markets.

Democratic leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees are preparing to make a stormy issue of this proposal.

House Chairman Harold Cooley, N.C., will put a demand for its outright rejection before his Committee. He is doing that at the express request of Democratic Floor Leader John McCormack, Mass. Senator Hubert Humphrey, Minn., who is spearheading the challenge in the Senate Committee, is set to grill Secretary Benson about a report on the origin of this little-known provision. Humphrey has been informed it was incorporated in the farm program "after the National Security Council decided it would be better to dispose of these surpluses to the Soviet bloc than to continue piling them up and depressing farm prices."

The Council acted on the basis of a study showing that while a record-high $1,600,000,000 of these commodities was disposed of last year, an equal amount was acquired by the government under the price support measures. The Council took the view that drastic steps are necessary to "break this vicious circle."

Note: The Agricultural Trade Development Act authorizes the export of farm surpluses only to "friendly nations." They are defined as any country or area "not dominated or controlled by the foreign government or foreign organization controlling the world Communist movement."

REDS NEED FOOD — The Administration will wage a vigorous fight for the requested authority to ship food surpluses to Iron Curtain countries.

A forceful argument for that is being presented to the Senate Agriculture Committee by Admiral Walter Delany (ret.), deputy director of the Foreign Operations Administration, which handles the foreign aid program. This is the opening run, and others will follow.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HERE'S A STORY that highlights the special quality that makes the English different from all other folks. An elderly lady was riding down to London in a first-class railway compartment when she suddenly confided to the young lady across the aisle, "I saw a splendid play the last time I visited London. Gielgud starred. He was superb. The direction and lighting also were perfect. Only fault with the play was the girl in the leading role. Marguerite Chapman I believe her name was. Shocking performance. I wonder how she got on to acting for a living in the first place."

The young lady's eyes flashed. "It may interest you to learn," she snapped, "that I happened to be Marguerite Chapman!"

The elderly lady nodded. "Yes," she said softly. "I know." George S. Kaufman recently characterized a familiar stage personality as "the most painstaking director in the New York theatre."

Palm Springs Shrine Club, S. L. Carpenter and Mrs. Carpenter, Illustrious Potentate C. Stanley Chapman, Ethel Strebe, Mrs. Chapman and George Strebe.

Shuffleboard Courts are Popular

With the addition this summer of 36 luxury suites to Oasis Hotel, another addition was made which finds the sportsmen of the resort busy practicing their skill. That is a pair of new tournament-size shuffleboard courts.

A large group of long-staying guests at Oasis Hotel gather each day on the courts, and anyone wanting to see some fine shuffleboard played should drop around and gallery the group. Each year O. D. Fisher (Fisher Flour of Seattle), who is a great shuffleboard enthusiast, having courts at his Seattle estate, awards a large trophy and sponsors a Spring tournament between Oasis and Desert Inn guests. This year, after many seasons at another hotel, he now is calling Oasis home for the entire season.

Playing on his team are: Mrs. Jack Schlendorf, Mrs. Raymond E. Watkins, Mrs. Dewey Metzger, and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gallon, of New York City. All are season guests at the Oasis, and therefore have many months of practice in the desert sunshine, and are ready by Easter to take on champions from anywhere in Palm Springs. This tournament, with Mr. Fisher in charge, will be played this year at the Oasis.

The familiar "Welcome Back" greeting is being extended to many who were here in the Fall and went home for the holidays and now are at the Oasis until late Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Metzger arrived from Seattle, reporting they had not had a day without rain since they left here in mid-November. Returnees from San Francisco are Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Schmolz; the John Hejiniens of New York City have returned, as have the W. G. McLarens of Seattle.

Arriving from Oakland for a week's sunshine are Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bedford and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Reis. The W. J. Webers have returned from San Francisco. The Richard Honlahans of Bellevue, Washington, have just completed a week's stay at the Oasis. Traveling all the way from Anchorage, Alaska, this week were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wolden. That is the city which the Dewey Metzgers called home until the warm desert weather beckoned them to Palm Springs.

Mrs. Ann L. Petry of 447 Chuckwalla Road has Nellie Clinton of North Hollywood as her houseguest.

Potentate Installs Officers

Red fezzes dotted the dinner crowd in the Chi Chi Starlite Room Monday night as the Palm Springs Shrine Club installed its new officers and honored Illustrious Potentate C. Stanley Chapman and his Divan from Al Malaikah.

The Starlite Room was filled with Shriners and their ladies and guests, and there were many visiting Shriners. Before the installation, Potentate Chapman appointed George Strebe, president of the Palm Springs Shrine Club, to serve as Potentate's Ambassador for the coming year.

Samuel L. Carpenter was installed as president; James I. Cavett, first vice president; Walter A. Melrose, second vice president; Peter B. Sheptenko, secretary; and George O. Wheeler, treasurer. Directors are Adolph O. Carl, John H. Dill, Max Grone, John G. Munholland, Sidney O. Noles and Robert H. Sherrill.

The Chi Chi served a fine prime rib dinner, climaxed by fancy petit fours shaped like fezzes. Each lady received a perfume gift from retiring president George Strebe.

After the installation dinner, the crowd enjoyed the Chi Chi floor show, which is headlined by Arthur Blake, and dancing to the music of Bill Alexander and his orchestra wound up a pleasant social evening.

Thompsons are Dinner Hosts

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson entertained a group of friends Saturday evening. A cocktail party at the Thompson home preceded the dinner party at the Tennis Club. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Jim Robinson, and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, all of San Gabriel, and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Sitter of Palm Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wirtz of New Ulm, Minnesota, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wirtz of Los Angeles spent the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rashall. The Ed Wirtzes have been the Coast since the early part of January. This is their first visit West and they are greatly impressed.

Patio Party for Birthday

Louise Bradford gave a patio birthday party for her nephew Paul Hiler and Charles Holly, her former business partner, both of Los Angeles, who were her weekend guests. Another guest was Miss Mary Rowe, also of Los Angeles.

Miss Bradford, who came here from Hollywood, is spending her first winter here and is so delighted with the surrounding beauty that she regrets she hadn't come here previous Winters.

Around Town

with Hildy Crawford

Some people have political ambitions . . . and others aspire to stardom . . . Some think acquiring money is all important . . . and many devote themselves selflessly to civic or organization work or philanthropy . . . Some are born to wealth while others work to pay the rent and grocery bills . . . Some are world famous and others know only the love of their families . . . But in Palm Springs the great denominator is a love of the Village . . . and an abiding interest in the amazing, amusing, sometimes unbelievable things that go on here . . . in America's foremost desert resort . . .

Joyce and Joe Pawling have sold their Lilliana Drive house . . . to Charles and Lillian Brown, who own the Catskill resort where Jerry Lewis was a busboy before his Hollywood days . . . The Browns will not take possession until next season . . . and, in the meantime, the Pawlings will build a new house on Hermosa Place close to the Hammond house . . .

The Duane Krulls of 760 Sonora Road, had as their weekend guests . . . the Larry Kents (he's the former orchestra leader . . . now manager and vice president of the Roy Rogers Enterprises) . . . and the Bob Olivers (he's the Hollywood Dodge dealer) . . . The entire party was at Saddle and Sirolo Sunday evening . . .

Mickey Finn showed up this weekend . . . with his hair dyed red for his role in the new Martin and Lewis film "Partners" . . . which has been shooting near Phoenix . . . He plays a heavy in the picture . . . Mickey would like his friends to know that he has never taken pay for his boy's ranch work . . . and that movies are his sole source of income . . .

Lou Schilling, who is here from Honolulu for an extended visit with her parents, Alta and George Roberson . . . dashed off to Acapulco to be there at the finish of the yacht races . . . Lou knows all the yachting crowd as she was hostess for the Honolulu yacht races this past Summer . . . She will be back in about two weeks . . .

The Raymond Leewys are expected around the first of February . . . for a six-week stay at their Palm Springs house . . .

Dorothy and Chester Adler will entertain around 40 friends . . . at the first of a series of cocktail-buffet . . . tomorrow night at their home at 1255 Camino Mirasol . . . The second of the series will be on February 9 . . . and a third is planned for March . . . In between, the Adlers are giving a number of intimate dinner parties . . .

Vicki and Billy Malouf have cancelled the Sunday Brunch . . . which they had planned to give at El Mirador . . . honoring newlyweds Marlene (Malouf) and Jerry Hall . . . as the young couple have changed their plans . . . They will honeymoon at the Racquet Club . . . but will go up to the mountains for the weekend . . . The Maloufs will entertain at cocktail parties at their home on Sunday evening . . . honoring John and Lillian McClure, who have just returned after a Caribbean cruise . . .

John and Lisa Gallois and their houseguests, Tony and Beagle Duquette, viewed Bill Bogges' new house . . . Sunday evening at the cocktail hour . . . Bill's new house is being much photographed . . . It was featured recently in L. A. Times Home Magazine section . . . and on Saturday it was used as a background by nationally known fashion photographer John Engstead . . . Sunday found Eva Marie Saint (Marlon Brando's leading lady in "Waterfront") being photographed poolside for a publicity layout in Life . . . Photographers were busy around the Village this weekend . . . with Cadillac shooting one of its new cars with a Racquet Club background . . .

Mrs. Ralph Huesman (owner of the Desmond Stores), with Dr. and Mrs. Russell Newling, are vacationing at La Quinta Hotel.

Among other interesting guests at the desert spa are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Schwartz (he is the composer of "Band Wagon"); Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fain (he composed the popular song "Love is a Many Splendored Thing", and "I'll Be Seeing You"); Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Minelle (the famous producer has just completed "Van Gogh"); and the Sidney Brodys of Los Angeles.

Theatre Magnate John Balaban is due to arrive the first of February for a three week stay.

Billingtons Have Weekend Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Billington of 534 Calle Ajo were hosts to Eastern guests from Thursday through Sunday. The guests, lifelong friends, Mr. and Mrs. Felix Sawasko and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Slatt, both couples of Grand Rapids, Michigan, were here for the first time and were thrilled with the climate after leaving subzero temperatures in the East.

The Billingtons entertained their guests with a dinner at the Chi Chi Thursday evening and at the Dunes on Friday. An impressive trip through the desert and on the Palmis to Pines Highway was something the visitors will long remember.

Bill and Barbara Foster and Maurice and Norma Smith drove to Indio Saturday evening to be the dinner guests of Charles and Jo Rely. The latter is former Villager Jo Arkelian.

Dimes Ball Will be Semi-Formal the March of Dimes Ball, a semi-formal dinner dance, to be held at Deep Well on the evening of February 4 will offer one of Santos' sumptuous dinners, a fashion show, and stellar entertainment . . . and at the same time, assist materially in the local March of Dimes drives.

Santos is planning a super special dinner that will feature filet mignons and champagne, and elaborate table decorations are being made by Mrs. Sidney J. Notes. The tables will ray out from the model dais so that everyone will have a good view of the fashion show. There will be dancing to the Premiers orchestra.

Professional models will show a dazzling array of exciting furs from Teitelbaum and a collection of new models from Hollywood's top couturiers. Miss Winsome Courtney manager of Teitelbaums Palm Springs shop, will commentate the show.

Riders Group Urges Opening of More Trails

The San Jacinto Mountain Wilderness and Trails Association met Saturday at the home of Carol Brill in Palm Springs to urge opening of more trails in Riverside County for hikers and horseback riders.

D. V. Garstin of Smoke Tree urged that the upper portion of the West Fork Trail leading from Palm Springs to Idyllwild be made passable. He recommended the association cooperate to this end with the riding organizations of Palm Springs.

D. T. MacDonald reported on the annual meeting of the California State Horsemen's Association recently held in Long Beach, and disclosed that dues were raised to $50 a year per member-organization.

Vice President Clare Woodmansee, in the absence of President Frank Richey of Hemet, appointed D. T. MacDonald, Carol Brill and Ana Mary Elliott to investigate problems of future use of Tahquitz Valley. Miss Elliott said there has been over-use by the public of Tahquitz Valley and its water supply and there is a possibility it will be closed for a season. The group also discussed possibilities of county action on recreation planning.

Several new members were added to the Trails Association, which is open to anyone interested in preserving hiking and riding trails in Southern California.

MEMBERS AND GUESTS adjourned to a dinner meeting at the Ranch Club.

Those present were: Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Woodmansee, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Garstin, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Boyer, Mrs. Jane Hoff, Mrs. Kate Schiller, Mrs. Carol Brill, Mrs. Jeanette Lippincott, all of Palm Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hahn and daughter, Mariel Hahn; Mrs. Cordelia Chenoweth and Miss Ana Mary Elliott, all of Idyllwild; Mr. and Mrs. A. Blanchette was charged with taking a convertible belonging to Esther Manners, driving to see friends in Desert Hot Springs to tell them he was leaving on a bus for the East, and striking soft sand on the way back, flipping the car, being thrown out and pinned under it when it came to rest.

Police said his belongings were in the back of the car, termed a total wreck, and that he was taking them to the bus station here. He said he planned to return the car.

DOORMASTER CLOSES

The same button closes, locks the door and turns the lights off as you back or drive out of your garage. Lights are synchronized with the door—when it opens, they go on. When it closes, they switch off.

DOORMASTER LOCKS

No fear of prowlers lurking in the shadows while you close the garage doors. Drive in, door closes and locks. Door may be operated by a push button located inside your garage or home.

This is the amazing new device which has excited nation wide comment. You can see why. Because of its adjustable friction drive, DOORMASTER is safe. (It is actually less dangerous than the uncontrolled momentum of a hand-operated door.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Jack Johnson, not the one granddad remembers but the young Los Angeles heavyweight who recently flattened Ezzard Charles, is proof again of the old saw "what's in a name."

Johnson, the younger, adopted that nom de guerre because it is synonymous with championship fighting ability. Actually, his real name is John Lee Storey.

But the alias is no stranger to sports.

Shortcuts or abbreviations such as those affected by Rocco Marchegiano, Stanislaus Kiecal and Anthony Zaleski—Rocky Marciano, Stanley Ketchel and Tony Zale—are easy to understand. But a great many of the muscular marvels make short work of their parents' donation.

DO YOU REMEMBER such lightweight champions as Benjamin Leiner, Verlin Jenks, Elzio Sardinias, Henry Jackson or Louis D'Ambrosio? Probably not. But you'll recognize them respectively as Benny Leonard, Lew Jenkins, Kid Chocolate, Henry Armstrong and Lou Ambers.

How about welterweight champion Gershon Mendeloff? Okay, then, Ted Kid Lewis. Or light-heavyweight champion Giuseppe Antonio Berardinelli? Well, that's Joey Maxim's square handle.

Possibly you didn't know that Noah Brusso, Arnold Cream and Jose Paul Zukauskas were heavyweight champions of the world. That would be Tommy Burns, Jersey Joe Walcott and Jack Sharkey.

NAME CHANGING is a custom often looked on as a necessity in ring warfare. For a theatrical playbill, possibly such tags as David Montrose, Leslie D'Arcy, Earl Lovejoy, Edward Van Dusan, Albert Pilkington and Edward Smyth might go well. But when they became box fighters, these gentlemen were known by such more belligerent sounding titles as Newsboy Brown, Les Darcy, Bud Gorman, Eddie McGorty, Tod Morgan and Gunboat Smith.

It happens in all sports. Lou Little, the famed Columbia football coach, was born Luigi Piccolo. In baseball, Peter Wyshner became Pete Gray. Aloysius Szymanski turned into Al Simmons and Francetto Pizzola became Ping Bodie. Umpire Babe Pinelli started out as Rinaldo Paoletti.

MANY NAMES were shortened to fit the by scores. Cornelius McGillicuddy became Connie Mack; Edmund Lopatynski chopped down to Ed Lopat; Ladislav Wittkowski melted to Whitey Witt and Edward Mayoski faded to Eddie Mayo.

One player, however, lengthened his name. Emil Verban, once with the Cardinals, added the "e" after starting as Vrbán. Dizzy Dean never could make up his mind and the argument still rages as to whether he was named Jerome Herman or Jay Hannah Dean.

Reminds you of the fellow who changed his name from Henry Pietranopolous to George Pietranopolous. "I just didn't like the name Henry," he told the judge.

Jordan Pushes in 27 Points to Pace Win Over Coachella

By DAVID FISHER
Coach Ralph Watt's Palm Springs Indians basketballers continued winning last night, defeating the defending champion Coachella Arabs 56-30 to hold on to their first place tie with the San Jacinto Tigers. Pacing the Indians to their fifth straight victory was Charles Jordan, six four four inch center, who pushed in 27 points. Jordan is now the league's high scorer.

Palm Springs, though playing without the services of O. B. Crawford and Skip Martin, had more than enough for the hot and cold Arabs. Besides Jordan's all-out effort, Mickey Pellum racked up 17 markers to again spark the Indians' fast break.

ACTION IN the opening period started off very slow, with the first score not coming until more than three minutes of play had ended. The remainder of the quarter was much faster, as the Indians out scored Coachella 15-7. In the second stanza Palm Springs increased their lead to 25-11. The second half was dominated completely by the Indians, as Jordan scored 17 and Pellum 7.

Standing out for the local cagers was Vic Reyes whose alert floor play contributed greatly to his team's victory. The speedy guard exhibited sharp passing and fabulous feeding to be the real take-charge guy for Palm Springs.

IN THE PRELIMINARY GAME, the Palm Springs B's, playing without their leading scorer, Curtis Roberts, were trounced by Coachella 47-26.

High point man for the Papooses in the fruitless attempt was Gary Waters, who accounted for 12 of the 26 points Palm Springs rolled up. Waters was the local boys' only bright spot.

THE INDIANS will finish out the first round of the Riverside County League schedule on Friday night when they tangle with the cellar dwelling Peris Panthers. The Varsity, though still not at full strength should not have much difficulty getting by the weak Panther quintet.

U.S. Wins Battle to Keep Winter Games in State

By PETER UEBERSAX
United Press Sports Writer

CORTINA, Italy (AP)—An 11-man delegation from Squaw Valley, Calif., today convinced the International Olympic Committee that the California resort can successfully stage the 1960 Winter Games. The IOC awarded the 1960 Winter Olympiad to Squaw Valley last summer. But IOC President Avery Brundage of Chicago recently asked the California Olympic Committee to come to Cortina and prove it could raise the $5,000,000 necessary to stage the games.

When the current meeting opened several days ago, the Austrian Olympic Committee announced it would try to have the 1960 Winter Games moved from Squaw Valley to Innsbruck. But after a four-hour session behind closed doors today, IOC members emerged with glowing accounts of a "super performance" by the Californians.

"They've entirely convinced us," said Switzerland's Albert Mayer, an influential European member of the committee. "It was a super performance."

Meanwhile, anxious Italian officials prayed for badly needed snow for tomorrow's opening of the seventh Winter Games.

Davis Cup Film Slated Tonight at Tennis Club

Sound films of the 1954 Davis Cup matches played in Australia, the year Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas brought the trophy to the United States after defeating Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad, will be shown by Tennis Club pro Ed Myerson at 7:30 p. m. today at the Tennis Club.

Meyerson said members of the club and all village tennis enthusiasts are invited to see the match which brought the cup from down under, only to be lost back to Hoad and Rosewall last year at Forest Hills.

Myerson added that the regular Wednesday night Tennis club round robin matches will start right after the show, playing for the first time this year.

He said the round robin tournament will be held each Wednesday evening.

Thunderbird's Pro-Am to Get Under Way Tomorrow

Nation's Leading Pros, Celebrities to Tee Off in $15,000 Tournament

Two last minutes changes in Thursday-Friday pairings for the Thunderbird Country Club were recorded by host professional Jimmy Hines and program chairman Milt Hicks when amateurs replaced amateurs.

Crooner Dean Martin, now in New York and unable to return in time for the sunbathed 36 holes of competition under the pro leadership of Dave Douglas, was replaced by Temple Buell, whose handicap is 10 more than Martin's nine-strokes.

M. E. Gray, who was going to play in a pro-am foursome led by pro Johnny Palmer, with amateurs Dick Guelich and W. T. Mahoney, will be replaced by V. E. Studebaker, one of the low men in the recent Desert Senior January Tournament.

OTHERWISE, the foursomes that started practice today are the same ones that will play tomorrow and Friday. The pros in that match, 42 of the world's best, will split a purse of $2,500. That will be graded between the low seven scorers.

Defending foursome is 1955 top money-winner Julius Boros and amateurs W. A. Moncrief, Tal Trible and Jack Williamson.

Other pros who will lead celebrity foursomes include Dr. Cary Middlecoff, winner of the Bing Crosby National, Lloyd Mangrum, winner of the L. A. Open, and Mike Souchak, winner of the recent Agua Caliente Open.

They will each be in teams of three amateurs, including Desi Arnaz, Phil Harris, Ben Gage, Dick Long, Gordon MacRae, Ralph Kiner, Hoagy Carmichael, Freeman Gosden, and Thunderbird president Fred Karlen.

15-Foot Vaulters Oppose Richards

NEW YORK (AP)—Rev. Bob Richards, the world's top pole vaulter, will be bidding for his 10th straight victory in the Melrose Games here Feb. 4, will be opposed by the only other 15-footers now in circulation and the only four men in the world who have vaulted 14 feet 10 inches and are now in competition. Those who have cleared 15 feet are Don Bragg of Villanova, and Don Laz of Urbana, Ill. The others include James Welbourne of Ohio State and Earl Poucher of Florida.

Adams Chosen to Handle Guerrero

ARCADIA (AP)—Veteran Johnny Adams will ride Guerrero, winner of the $25,000 Santa Catalina Stakes, in Saturday's $155,000 Santa Anita Maternity.

Adams, currently riding in Florida, will fly here for the race.

Thomas Golf Duo Winner at Tamarisk

The first of a regular schedule of mixed golf matches was played at Tamarisk Country Club Sunday. It was a mixed composite-score twosome, won by Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Thomas.

The Thomases, who shot a net 68, were two strokes ahead of a three-way tie for second place between twosomes made up of Sanford Schullhofer and Mrs. Richard Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Shearer, and Claude Freeman and Shirley Spork.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kenrich, with 71, were one stroke behind the tied twosomes, for third place. Fourth place with 72 included 9 teams tied. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Stan Rosin; Frank DeGoff and Mrs. Hy Fink; Freeman Gosden and Mrs. Verle Vines; Mr. and Mrs. Dave Slatin; Elly Vines and Mrs. Freeman Gosden; Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Fulip; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Richards, and Dr. Joseph Kaplan with Shirley Spork.

The next tournament at Tamarisk, according to assistant pro Joe Lucas, will be held the last Sunday in February, and will be mixed foursomes. Lucas said it has not been decided whether the play will be scotch foursome or medal.

La Quinta Zoning Hearing Postponed by Supervisors

LA QUINTA — The hearing on a comprehensive zoning plan for the La Quinta community southwest of Indio was continued by the county supervisors Monday to February 20 at 10 a. m.

There were no strong protests but County Planning Director Tyler Suess said that some property has change hands since the hearings were held before the planning commission, and some modification has been requested.

THE SECURITY Bank asked that four blocks surrounding the park which is the center of the La Quinta development, be placed in a commercial zone. They said the property had been deeded for that purpose and that the original plot for the area made in 1936 showed it that way. The four blocks are shown on the comprehensive zoning map as residentially zoned.

The new owners of the Desert Club asked that a small portion of their property be commercially zoned and that a 40-acre parcel south of the club be placed in multiple R-3 zoning rather than the R-1 single residential shown on the plan.

A REQUEST WAS also made that property at Avenue 50 and Marshall streets shown on the plan as restricted commercial zone, be made a multiple residential zone.

The community to come under the proposed comprehensive zoning plan extends as far east as Adams street.

The supervisors asked the planning commission to give consideration to the requested changes before the February 20 hearing.

Zoning Urged by Farm Center

PALO VERDE — The Farm Center asked that a study be made for zoning of "the whole unincorporated area of the Palo Verde Valley," in a letter received by the supervisors.

The letter was referred to the county planning commission.

Liebling and Tribal Council Terminate Leasing Dispute

Dispute between A. M. Liebling, president of Mutual Enterprises, Inc., and the Agua Caliente Tribal Council, came to a swift climax and abrupt end yesterday afternoon.

Both sides had their say in a 20-minute audience granted Liebling by the council at its regular session.

Nothing was accomplished except to come to a definite understanding.

Liebling said he was withdrawing all offers, and the Tribal Council and Ned Mitchell, local representative of the Bureau of Indian Affairs, stated emphatically they would consider no lease for the eight-acre bathhouse area until legislation had been secured for 99-year leases.

The controversy developed when Liebling recently announced he had started discussions concerning leasing of the parking lot on the bathhouse area, and elaborated on plans for development of the entire area if he was ever able to secure the entire property under lease.

Yesterday, Mitchell, Viola Olinger and other council members, in a prepared statement, termed the story "most untimely and premature."

They emphatically denied "that any negotiations are contemplated at this time for the leasing of certain Tribal land known as the Bathhouse Reserve."

Liebling agreed that no negotiations had ever been conducted concerning the bathhouse area, and that he was only interested at this time with the parking lot, now under lease to The Center Corporation until next year.

Four Governors Defy High Court

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Four Southern governors spurred legislatures of their states today to challenge the authority of the U.S. Supreme Court to order mixed schools.

By informal agreement at a conference Tuesday, the governors asserted the strongest stand yet taken in the rising crisis over school segregation across the Deep South.

They decided to ask their legislatures, which now are in session, to invoke the doctrine of "interposition," a word used in the past to describe a state's protest against alleged federal government encroachment.

Govs. Thomas B. Stanley of Virginia, Marvin Griffin of Georgia, H. P. Coleman of Mississippi and George B. Timmerman Jr. of South Carolina issued their personal challenges of the court's authority.

DRIVE TO BRING $1,600,000,000 SCHOOL AID BILL TO FLOOR STALLS

By UNITED PRESS

The drive to bring the Democratic $1.6 billion school aid bill to the House floor was stalled at least temporarily today.

The House Rules Committee began working over the bill Tuesday. And so far, the committee showed no signs of letting it go.

However, House leaders hoped the bill can be brought to the floor for a vote next week.

The bill calls for federal grants of $100 million a year to states for school construction during the next four years. The administration wants to give states $1.25 billion over a five-year period. The Republicans have pledged to fight for the administration plan.

Any school aid plan is certain to run into a segregation fight on the House floor.

OTHER CONGRESSIONAL news: DEFENSE: Chairman Clarence

Cannon of the House Appropriations Committee charged Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson with dodging a key question: How does the United States military might and production compare with Russia's? Wilson faced questioning for the second day by the Military Appropriations subcommittee at hearings on the administration's $35 billion military budget.

SOCIAL SECURITY: The Senate Finance Committee opened lengthy hearings on a Democratic bill to liberalize Social Security. The bill passed the House last July. Under the bill, persons would start drawing benefits at 62 instead of 65. Social Security taxes would be increased to two and one-half per cent from two.

BUDGET: Sen. Harry Byrd (D-Va) introduced a proposed constitutional amendment that would require Congress to balance the budget each year. Byrd—a noted economist—is chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

NATURAL GAS: Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill) geared the end of his long fight against the natural gas bill. Douglas has held the Senate floor for four days in the debate on the bill to exempt gas producers from federal price controls. He charged the bill would "gouge" gas consumers.

New Snowstorm Drives Eastward from Plains Area

By UNITED PRESS

A new snowstorm drove eastward out of the great plains today, icing highways in Southern Illinois and Indiana.

The snows, following fast on the southland's first major storm of the winter, laid a five-inch blanket from Missouri northward.

In the West, another in a series of Pacific storms which have plagued Northern California dumped heavy rains in the lowlands and snow in the mountain areas.

The western snows extended as far east as Nevada, where Reno reported one inch on the ground. Southwest storm warnings were hoisted along the California coast from Point Conception to Cape Mendocino.

The Midwest snows were falling early today from Minnesota southward into Iowa, Missouri, Illinois and Indiana. Farther south there was drizzle and fog through the lower Mississippi Valley.

Earlier, freezing drizzle disrupted communications in Western Kansas. The ice caused more than 100 long distance telephone line breaks, isolating Liberal, Kan., for several hours.

A school bus carrying 17 children skidded off a snowy road at Seneca, Mo., yesterday and overturned in a ditch. No one was hurt, but a highway patrol car speeding to the scene also skidded off the road and a second patrol car was blocked by stalled autos.

The snows followed a rash of freezing and asphyxiation deaths in the Midwest. Two Kentucky truckers, trying to keep warm during the night by keeping their motor running, were found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning near Antigo, Wis., yesterday. In Indiana, fumes from a faulty motel heater killed two persons at Hobart and another gas heater was blamed for the death of a Richmond woman.

was a dangerous practice for local hotel owners. But he said he knew of no actual case of price boosting.

JERRY BUNKER, city attorney, explained the new "rate sign ordinance" which was passed to halt the use of rate signs in front of hotels on Palm Canyon Drive and Indian Avenue. The ordinance is in effect during the winter months only.

Dr. C. E. Smith, Desert Museum curator, spoke to the group on the availability of the museum to their guests, explaining that 49,807 persons visited the museum last year, with the major portion of these persons being visitors from other states and staying in local hotels.

Stan Rosin, speaking for Frank Bennett, chairman of the Community Chest campaign, told the meeting a "robot" would be used to collect from the hotels. The novel idea was suggested to spur collections and bring them up to last year.

Following the meeting, coffee and doughnuts were served.

three-way intersection at Sunrise Way and Highway 111, near Smoke Tree Ranch, has been recommended as a site for a traffic light.

If council were to go with the recommendation of the State Highway Commission, since Highway 111 is a state highway, a traffic light would be installed at that corner. Since it is a three-way intersection, the state would bear two-thirds of the cost, the city one-third.

The Ramon Grocery's application for an off-sale beer and wine license will also be considered. Facets involved center around the parking and zoning of the store, and its proximity to Ramon Road.

CARNATION HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR

"Mirror, mirror, on the wall I'll be the slimmest girl of all With CARNATION SLENDER on my team"

"My figure's bound to be a dream!"

You've guessed it! I've decided to take off those extra pounds I gained over the holidays. Care to join me?

Slender NON-FAT MILK

And, to make sure we stay healthy while we're getting slim, let's drink plenty of Carnation Slender every day. It's actually fine, fresh Carnation Milk, you know, with only the fat removed. What's more, Carnation Slender is fortified to bring you even more protein, vitamins and minerals than regular milk. Just 3 glasses a day will give you the important protective elements you need while reducing.

Dying for Dessert?

Sooner or later, in every diet, there comes the time when you can't stand one more dessertless meal. This delicious Orange Pudding always satisfies my sweet tooth and it contains only half the calories of pie or cake.

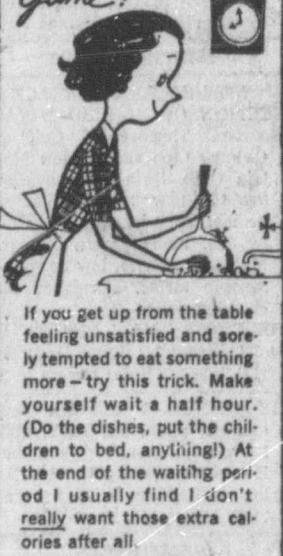

Dieters Orange Pudding

(Makes about 6 servings)

1/4 cup flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 egg yolks
1 1/2 teaspoons grated orange rind
1/4 cup orange juice
1 cup CARNATION SLENDER
2 egg whites

Mix flour, sugar and salt together. Beat egg yolks; add egg yolks, orange rind, juice, and Slender to dry ingredients. Mix well. Fold beaten egg whites lightly but thoroughly into egg yolk mixture. Pour into 6 custard cups. Set in pan of hot water. Bake in moderate oven (350°F.) 40-50 minutes. Serve warm or cold.

HELPFUL HINT: Play the Waiting Game!

If you get up from the table feeling unsatisfied and sorely tempted to eat something more—try this trick. Make yourself wait a half hour. (Do the dishes, put the children to bed, anything!) At the end of the waiting period I usually find I don't really want those extra calories after all.

Follow your doctor's advice. It's calories you want to cut—not nourishment. That's where Carnation Slender comes in, too. It helps you stay "pepped up" while you're "slimming down." Drink a quart every day.
